Who Will Benefit from This Guide?

I feel that anyone who at least has met someone who shows signs of liking them back and you've begun communicating through texts can benefit from the copy-and-paste texts and text scripts outlined in this guide.

But this guide will especially be useful to someone who has already started dating someone or who is in a committed relationship.

"What if I am in none of these situations above?"

You can still benefit in the future by studying the techniques outlined in this guide.

And you could master them quite quickly if you use a dating app to meet single men.

In fact, in the future I plan on creating more content (both blog posts and eBooks) on how to filter out the duds and creeps online and how to find Mr. Right.

Women in past relationships (or the current relationship I am in at the time of writing this guide) have sent me these messages, or similar ones. And when timed appropriately have created a deeper attraction in me towards them.

Plus, I have sent similar text messages to them in order to build up attraction.

"Should I Send ANY of the Texts in This Guide- Regardless of the Stage of My Relationship?"

No, especially the third and fourth categories of text messages.

Read the introductions of each section FIRST before using them on a guy.

This is important.

The texts in the last two sections are EXTREMELY FLIRTY and HEATED. They are ONLY designed to be used once the man you are seeing or dating has shown signs that he wants to go to the next level with you.

It doesn't matter what he has mentioned about his experience in past relationships.

Do NOT move faster than he wants to go with you.

Otherwise, risk him disappearing.

But...

...once you reach the stages of extreme flirting with him then these texts will make him crazy about you.

If you are unsure please email me at orlando@infidelityfirstaidkit.com and explain your situation before sending them.

Cute Text Messages ... (that Make Him Obsess Over You)

As I mentioned in the introduction of this guide each section contains texting techniques that are designed for specific relationship stages. Please make sure that you ONLY send the style of texts that are meant for the stage of relationship that you determine you are in.

At the beginning of each section I will provide some texts that you could copy then apply to practically any situation within THAT stage of relationship.

Which Relationship Stage Works Best for Cute Text Messages

Any Relationship Stage

These are safe but adorable texts that you could send to a man regardless of the commitment level of your relationship.

Some, though, would only work if you already went out a few times and at least held hands or each other (you'll see what I mean).

Of course, some of them may work better when you just start seeing each other because if you have seen each other for a while then you probably wouldn't send a text like, "I didn't know that knights in shining armor still existed".

It would sound over dramatic and corny.

Also, depending on your situation and the context of your conversation, you may have to warm the conversation up first. Although, some of these texts work great to start a brand-new conversation.

*(Note: I do NOT mean "conversation starters". Conversation starters are designed for face-to-face interactions with a guy you've never talked to before).

The important part to keep in mind here is that these texts show your affection for a man.

If you like a guy then you must communicate that you do; otherwise, you could get stuck in the Friend Zone.

So, yes, in the beginning you may have to take a little risk and express to him that you like him.

Now maybe you get lucky and he makes the first move to express his desire to be more than friends.

If not, you could either wait until he does, but risk that he loses interest if he is too shy, or go ahead and make the first move yourself.

With most of these Cute Text Messages in this section you will keep the risk-taking to a minimum.

Copy and Paste Text Messages

- In the dark your eyes shine like little diamonds.
- I'm just a girl who likes a boy.
- There's no place I'd rather be than next to you right now.
- When I'm in your arms I'm in Heaven.
- There's no place I feel safer than in your arms.
- I didn't know that knights in shining armor still existed.
- Would you get offended if I told you that I feel sparks when looking at you?

- If I had three wishes you'd be the first.
- Why can't I stop thinking about you?
- How did you learn to lower my defenses so easily?
- Open your hands and you'll find my beating heart.

Cute Text Message Scripts

Throughout this guide, in this section, I provide you some texts that you can send him at any time without even having to warm up the conversation. The difference between "scripts" and "copy-and-paste" text messages is that you can personalize them by filling in the blanks that I left.

1. Something about you popped in my mind today and I've been smiling ever since ... 😊

(He'll ask what is was).

How you _____ (Fill in the blank with any one specific action he does OR how he makes you feel).

Examples:

- How you treat me like a gentleman whenever we go out.
- How you make me laugh.
- How you get dimples in your cheeks when you laugh. You're so cute!
- How you bring me little gifts to cheer me up.
- How you always text me good night and good morning.

Each of these identifies specific actions that he does that you notice or that he does for you.

And by not giving him the entire text message up front it creates curiosity that he cannot resist replying to.

If he likes you enough, he will feel compelled to ask for you to continue.

Find things that you know that he will appreciate hearing that you noticed about him. Us guys make an effort to make you happy and love hearing that you picked up on those efforts.

We, as man, love to know that we make our women happy. It goes back to my Principle #1: Feeling Good Enough (for our women) in my eBook "Next Level Connection: How to Develop Deep Emotional Connection with Your Man"

This principle of mine explains why I feel we choose long-term relationships with women with whom we feel deeply connected to.

2. I was thinking about you and I noticed something unique that I admire.

(Again, here he'll ask what it is).

That you have the unique ability to _____. (Fill in the blank with a quality that uplifts you or others around him).

Examples:

- That you have the unique ability to turn any moment into a fun time.
- That you have the unique ability to make me want to chase my dreams.
- That you have the unique ability to turn sad moments into happy ones.

- That you have the unique ability to make me just want to have fun and feel like a kid again.
- That you have the unique ability to open me up and feel romantic around you despite how serious I can be.

These go deeper than the first set of cute text message scripts. They touch on emotions that make him feel more valuable as a man. We gauge our value to a woman based on how we uniquely stand out to her from all other men. This still even includes during marriage.

If you've been in a long-term relationship before you already know how you continue to discover new things about each other that you appreciate and that draw you closer to one another.

In the case of these scripts, don't be surprised if he asks for an example. So, have one or two ready to supply him if he asks.

3. May I ask you something that I am a little embarrassed about?

(He'll say yes).

Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you _____, would you object? 😊

(Fill in with a compliment or something that you want to do with or to him, but nothing romantic yet. We'll look at romantic texts later. You can use some similar examples of qualities from the previous two sections).

Examples:

- Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you how much I like you, would you object?
- Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you how much I enjoy spending time with you, would you object?

- Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you how handsome you are, would you object?
- Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you how much of a gentleman you are, would you object?
- Ha, ha if I wanted to tell you how much you make me smile, would you object?

Sometimes the cutest way to say something is to politely ask for permission to say it. It's slightly flirty and also ladylike. And you are also saying it without actually saying it.

By gently and flirtatiously asking for permission to compliment him you now will have his full attention while he waits for you to actually say it.

Imagine asking for a kiss without just doing it.

It's cute, right?

And sets the stage for them to ask for it.

The same concept applies here for setting the stage to pay him a cute compliment.

Plus, we like to feel that our ladies can take the initiative sometimes to set the mood to become romantic or sexy.

Romantic Love Text Messages ... (to Make Him Fall Deeper in Love with You)

Romantic love text messages should call to your man's "Hero Instinct" (the concept coined by dating coach James Bauer) and make him feel like he performs his perceived role as a man well.

Read my review of the eBook "His Secret Obsession" that outlines how the "Hero Instinct" makes men chase and fall in love.

One of the most effective ways to condition a man to fall in love (or fall deeper in love) with you is to make him feel like he makes you happy in a way that stands out from the rest of the men.

He wants to feel uniquely special to you.

And that is the goal of these romantic love text messages in this section.

The strategy of these text messages is to get his attention and to make him curious.

Make him chase by luring him in to ask you for more.

Which Relationship Stage Works Best for Romantic Love Text Messages?

New Daters (three or more dates) or New Couples

Once sparks start to fly and he proactively takes action to contact and see you then you can begin to send these kinds of text messages.

Does he show signs of liking you?

- Physically touches you in safe zones: your shoulder, arms, waist, hand, head.
- Compliments you physically or something he admires about you.
- Describes how happy he feels around you.
- Texts or calls you first before you reach out to him.
- Asks you out AND keeps the date.
- Brings you gifts.

- Texts you "good morning" or "good night".
- Talks about where he'd like to take you out on dates.
- Introduces you to his family or friends.

These are just a few examples of signs that indicate that he likes you.

If he shows these signs or something similar then he'd want you to send the kinds of text messages outlined in this section.

Copy-and-Paste Romantic Love Texts

- You can tell a lot about a man through his eyes, but I get lost in yours.
- Until I met you, I thought all men were the same. But you are very different, one-of-a-kind.
- It was not too long ago that I thought gentlemen became extinct ... then I met you.
- (Similar to the last one) Dinosaurs became extinct, but you're proof that gentlemen did not.
- When you held my hand, I didn't want to let go.
- You looked into my eyes and time stood still for a second.
- How do you make my heart pound so much?
- When you speak my body falls into a trance. How do you overpower me so easily?
- I swear that when you touch me you hypnotize my body. I feel helpless. You really know how to own a girl's heart.

- Why do I keep getting the feeling that you are so different than any other man I've met?

Romantic Text Message Scripts

Again, here I am supplying you with text messages that you can personalize and send without warming up the conversation.

The main difference between the romantic and cute text messages is that the romantic ones are designed more for a couple already in some type of relationship, whether they have dated for a while or have entered a committed relationship.

1. Hey sweetie, may I ask you a question?

(He'll say yes).

How did you learn to _____? (Fill in blank with something he does that turns you on, makes you happy or something that you appreciate or respect).

Examples:

- How did you learn to make a girl so happy?
- How did you learn to make my heart pound by just the sound of your voice?
- How did you learn to be so romantic and such a gentleman?
- How did you learn to melt me with your kisses?
- How did you learn to send shockwaves through my body with just your soft touches?

Questions grab attention and then when you end the sequence with a cute, romantic compliment it makes him feel special.

Again, men like to feel like they please a woman.

We want to feel like what we offer you is good enough to satisfy you.

The next is similar but creates more curiosity.

2. I don't know quite how you do it... 😊

(He'll ask what it is).

How you _____. (Fill in blank with something he does that makes you feel good or special).

Examples:

- How you turn me with just your soft, warm breaths on my cheek.
- How you get me thinking about you all day.
- How you hypnotize me with your kisses.
- How you make me feel like such a lady.
- How you know exactly what to say to make me smile.

Statements can grab attention, especially when you leave out part of the information with no promise of providing it.

This technique forces him to ask for it.

You'll also notice that romantic text messages are not sexy or dirty (although we will look at some later), they're cute and create warm fuzzy feelings.

These will work with any guy with whom has already shown interest in you.

Heavier flirtier, and even dirty text messages can help kick things up a notch once you feel things have gotten more serious.

Again, we will look at those in a bit.

3. You do one thing that renders me completely defenseless against your powers. Hmm, maybe I shouldn't reveal it. 🤔

(Wait until he asks what it is. Make him curious and force him to engage).

Your/ Every time you/ The way you _____. (Fill in blank with something he does that you like or a quality about him that you like).

Examples:

- Your stunning eyes when I gaze into them up close.
- Your body's sexy scent.
- Your strong, firm hands when they rub my shoulders.
- Every time you call me "sweetie".
- Your dimples.
- The way you brush my hair with your hand after we kiss.

The first part of this romantic text message sequence is a bit wordy but I like how flirty and cute it is. And the script is very easy to fill in. The options are endless.

If you are looking for more ideas just think of the 5 senses (a visual, scent or audio quality or action; or a way he touches you).

A reminder again, romantic text messages are meant to be cute and sensual.

Think G or PG (movie ratings here in the United States; G- for any audience, PG- parental guidance suggested).

Now onto the more sensual and sexy text messages that will take flirting to a whole new level.

These are NOT suitable for all situations.

Wait until things start to turn a little "saucy" or have already gone full-blown flirty.

These also work great for reigniting a spark in your relationship if things have gotten too mundane and routine.

Flirty Seductive Question Text Messages ... (He Can't Resist Replying To)

For these texts we will continue with the strategy of making him curious to interact with you because he knows that you like him.

But now we will only utilize questions, specifically questions that seduce and arouse your man.

If you feel that you both are ready to take things physically to the next level then some of these would work great to make the first move.

On the other hand, if you are already in a relationship, then you can use these texts to re-spark excitement. As always, sending these to your partner during his work day helps build up the excitement and sexual tension because he cannot take action and must wait.

Which Relationship Stage Works Best for Flirty Seductive Text Messages?

Daters or Couples

Flirty seductive text messages work great for people dating who have already gotten physical, have NOT gotten sexual yet (sexual touching or intercourse), but wish to get to the next level of intimacy.

Think of these texts as foreplay, innocently warming things up to make it comfortable for both to move from physical kissing and touching to full-blown sexual interactions- the FINAL section of this guide.

For couples already in relationships, then the texting techniques here can provide that spark to reunite some excitement and pump life back into your lives.

Copy-and-Paste Flirty Seductive Question Text Messages

- If I were a magic lamp, how many times would you rub me to get a wish?
- Sorry, just saw your message. I just got out of the shower and haven't dried off yet. Would you like to hand me a towel? Ha, ha.
- I'm only wearing one piece of clothing. Guess which one it is?
- Wanna get crazy in the dark somewhere?
- A movie may not be a good idea tonight. I can't promise I won't get a little naughty. 😊 Got any better ideas of where to spend time in the dark?
- If we found ourselves alone in an elevator would you act like a bad boy? Or a saint?
- Imagine me undressing in front of an upstairs window. Would you watch or look away? 😊

- Ever play strip poker? Wanna play tonight after the kids are asleep?
- If I granted you one fantasy, which would you choose: On the beach, in a cabin in front of the fireplace during a snow storm or in a tent in the woods?

Flirty Seductive Question Text Message Scripts

Most of the following examples probably are better suited for couples in the early stages of relationships, but if you can still use a few if you're in a committed relationship.

However, the FINAL section in this guide gets really saucy.

It will work great for couples wanting to either rekindle lost sexual intimacy and get kinky again or for the couples wanting to start getting intimate for the first time.

So, make sure you don't skip the last section after this one.

1. If I _____ would you stop me?

Examples

- If I gazed and admired your eyes for a few seconds would you stop me?
- If I held your hand for a moment would you stop me?
- If I leaned in to kiss your cheek would you stop me?
- If I wanted to sit closer would you stop me?
- If I wanted to give you a back massage would you stop me?

While you can certainly kick these texts up a notch from PG or R rated to X rated, don't do it unless you have already gotten the green light or some kind of indication from the guy that's what he wants.

We'll look at some erotic text messages in the FINAL section of this guide.

For now, until you get the "go ahead", keep the texts cute.

Simply bridge to the next level from conversations and exchanges of smiles and laughter to getting SLIGHTLY more personal.

(Of course, "slightly more personal" depends on personal taste and preference).

Anything more than that too early could risk scaring him off.

Even if he says that he is used to sexual advances by women, do NOT jump ahead too fast.

Just proceed with caution until it becomes obvious that he is ready to advance to the next level intimately.

Us men are still pickier than with whom we enjoy acting intimately than we may lead on.

2. So, be honest. How many times/much have you thought about _____ (an event that happened between you two or a general fantasy he shared)?

Examples

- So, be honest. How many times have you thought about our first kiss?
- So, be honest. How much have you thought about how badly you wanted to kiss me when we walked around the lake?

- So, be honest. How much have you thought about living out any of your biggest fantasies? (Here you implying in a general tense- not with you).
- So, be honest. How many times have you thought about that moment you accidentally touched my breast?
- So, be honest. How many times have you thought about our conversation about our sexual preferences?

These seductive text message questions still keep you in the quasi-sexual zone without crossing over the line to the next level.

Some of these insinuate sexual acts without getting into details.

This will get our blood boiling a bit and build up sexual tension which puts us in the position of making the first move with you.

That's what you should preferably want- for the guy to make the biggest sexual first move.

3. Hey, you! Busy? Sorry, got something on my mind that's bothering me.

(Wait for him to reply. He won't resist wanting to find out if something is wrong or if he's in trouble).

Do you think it's weird that I really want to/can't stop _____? (an event that happened between you two, a cute desire or even a specific fantasy but not X-rated- yet 😊).

Examples

- Do you think it's weird that I can't stop thinking about your wet kiss?

- Do you think it's weird that I really want to see you two nights in a row?
- Do you think it's weird that I can't stop thinking about what almost happened last night?
- Do you think it's weird that I really want to make out with you right now instead of be at work?
- Do you think it's weird that I really want to meet you in the elevator and make out?

The last one is the best, of course, and will work better if you work in the same office.

These are great gateway seductive texts to the more erotic ones.

Don't be surprised that if in the same conversation you cross over to sexting. 😏

Texts like these serve as great stepping stones to build up the sexual tension inside him to the point he can no longer resist you.

And sending these kinds of texts from this entire section will achieve even more success of igniting his wild side if you send them in a timely manner.

In other words, send them when he's stuck at work or in any situation where he is stranded and cannot physically break away and come see you.

Examples

- Waiting at a doctor's appointment.

- During a break in a long business meeting.
- Waiting to board a flight or taking off.
- On a business trip.
- Visiting his grandma or any family member (especially naughty).
- Babysitting his niece or nephew.
- On his way to work.
- During a class.

And now we venture into the art of sending erotic texts- the kind that can help catapult your relationship from cute and cuddly to hot and passionate.

Arriving to the final destination of releasing pent up sexual and sensual desire in your man has everything to do with passing through emotions in the proper sequence.

Think of yourself as a sexual boa constrictor slowly wrapping him up within your coil and NOT a kangaroo jumping straight to the end.

I believe that women who jump too fast, too early, risk killing the mood and often times even lose respect with us.

Ready to climb to the next level in your relationship by mastering simple texting techniques?

Let's go...

Erotic Text Messages ... (to Make Him Want to Jump Through the Phone and Grab You)

You laid out the bread crumbs with all the other texts.

He's followed your lead.

If you've done things right then you have placed yourself at the center of his universe.

You have positioned yourself to stand out from the rest of the crowd and he now finds you irresistible.

Through teasing and prodding and building off any previous text conversations, or face-to-face encounters, you have passed through all the doors to arrive to the final gateway.

He's complied with your previous flirty texts and replied in a similar sexual tone.

Plus, he has hinted that he wants to go farther through questions, remarks or insinuations.

Time to build from that.

Here you will learn how to begin mastering how to create visual fantasies in his mind with nothing more than your creativity and miniature phone keyboard.

(*Keep checking your emails for expert-level erotic texting techniques.)

Ready?

Let's move onto some X rated, erotica-style text messages you'd expect to find in your favorite raunchy romantic novels.

Which Relationship Stage Works Best for Erotic Text Messages?

Couples

Things are getting steamy and you have seen each other for a while (or you're even married but wish to re-ignite the lost sexual spark).

Both of you share mutual desire to make passionate love and want to get kinky.

No need to wait for the perfect timing or to warm things up.

If you have recently both made moves to get kinky with each other then you could send these at any moment.

Keep something in mind though...

Sometimes, despite how sexual he's been lately, he may have a bad day at work or receive bad news from circumstances outside your control.

If for whatever reason, he does NOT appear to be the mood to talk dirty then respect his space and wait for the "green light".

Copy-and-Paste Erotic Text Messages

- Hey sweetie, I'm dripping wet, just got out of the shower. Want me to shave it (or replace "it" with a more descriptive word for vagina) or should I wait for you to help?
- If I put my hand between your legs at the movies would you remove it or keep it warm ?
- Sorry ... one sec ... I'm trying to hurry out the door, but I can't seem to find my panties.

- Can I tell you a naughty little secret? (Wait for his response). You make me dripping wet down there when you flirt with me.
- Sweetie. You've got me so turned on right now. Ha, ha. Please stop. I'm at work. I may have to sneak into the bathroom and touch myself just to cool off. Ha, ha, ha.

Just creating those texts even gets me in the mood to text my girlfriend right now.

Ha, ha.

And the scary part is these are not even the expert-level text techniques (or XXX-rated ones) that have been used on me or vice versa.

These kinds of texts warm up both you and your man for the next time you see each other in person.

Sorry ... They're NOT for Everyone

But here is some (possible) bad news...

Not every woman can pull these off.

The key to success with erotic texts is feeling comfortable sending them.

If you are not comfortable in your own skin sexually then we will sense your awkwardness.

We will feel your discomfort quickly.

Typically, people with higher sex drives love to engage in erotic sexual texting.

It's not the end of the world if you don't feel comfortable doing this.

So, if you are reading these and saying to yourself, "Disgusting. What am I a teenager? Any guy who wants to get these kinds of texts from me is a pig," then the issue is NOT the guy.

Rather, it's that you may not have a high sexual drive or are very conservative

People with high sexual drives do not feel ashamed to speak like this to one another.

You might be better matched with someone who is more sexually compatible to your style.

If so, then you can have tremendous success with the cuter, less erotic texts contained in this guide.

However, if I have caught your interest with these texts in this section then please continue reading...

Erotic Text Message Scripts

Better use these only if he is compatible to you sexually. Just because he is a guy, does not mean that he won't get offended.

If he has discussed his sexual preferences from past relationships or has hinted at what he wants to do with you sexually then I would proceed with these kinds of erotic texts.

Otherwise, you may have to wait until you see signs that he is ready to receive them.

Now keep in mind, these texts are designed for BOTH people rising to the next level sexually in a relationship AND for people already in a committed relationship.

You could rekindle the romance after things have gone stale for a while or keep the sexually energized momentum cruising along.

1. Hey, honey. About tonight ... ♡. I'm feeling a little naughty/anxious right now. Would you mind if I _____?
/ Would you be offended if I _____?

Examples

- Hey, honey. About tonight ... I'm feeling a little anxious right now. Would you mind if I slipped into some naughty lingerie and wait in the bedroom for your arrival?
- Hey, honey. About tonight ... I'm feeling a little naughty right now. Would you be offended if you found me with nothing more than socks on when you get here?
- Hey, honey. About tonight ... I'm feeling a little anxious right now. How would you prefer me to be dressed in the bedroom when you come home: in see-through black silk lingerie, soaking-wet-out-of-the-shower wrapped in a towel or nothing at all? (This is a slightly different version than the template above).
- Hey, honey. About tonight ... I'm feeling a little naughty right now. Sorry. You've just got me so heated up. Would you be offended if I did a little striptease before we go out tonight?
- Hey, honey. About tonight ... I'm feeling a little naughty right now. Would you be offended if I go panty-less under my skirt tonight?

2. May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. I _____.

Examples

- May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. I'm panty-less and dripping wet. Hope your not offended.
- May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. I was so wet down there thinking about you that I had to change my panties in the middle of work. Hope you don't mind me telling you that.

- May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. I am in the middle of shaving myself silky smooth down there. Want to help? Oh my gosh. Sorry. I hope that doesn't offend you.
- May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. I might have stimulated myself last night thinking about you with my new toy. Sorry. Does that offend you?
- May I reveal a dirty little secret? (Wait for his response). I'm so turned on right now. How do you know how to get me soaking wet down there so easily? Sorry sweetie if that offends you.

These are examples of push-and-pull flirting.

First, you draw him in with the seductive question.

Next, you open the proverbial curtains to reveal your desire to experience him sexually.

Then, you end the text with a take away by insinuating that you will stop if he is not ready and that you respect his preferences.

Of course, this will most likely cause his built-up sexual tension to explode like a volcano.

Following up with, "Hope that doesn't offend you," also maintains your intentions to stay lady-like but at the same time reveals your desire to unleash your sexual beast behind closed doors.

*Ladies...

... this is a major turn ON to us guys.

We want a princess in public, but a devil in the bedroom. (At least, many of us do).

3. Hey, honey. I know you're working now, but could you imagine if _____?

(Or...)

... would you mind _____ / be offended if I _____?

Examples

- Hey, honey. I know you're working right now, but could you imagine if we snuck off into the nearest closet, ripped off all our clothes and I let you plunge into me doggystyle? Oh my. Have I said too much? Sorry.
- Hey, honey. I know you're working right now, but could you imagine if I hid under your desk and sucked and licked you off like a lollipop. Oh, my gosh. Was that too much? Sorry. Forget I sent that.
- Hey, honey. I know you're working right now, but would you be offended if I laid here on the bed naked and touched myself while thinking about you?
- Hey, honey. I know you're working right now, but would you mind if I cooked for you naked tonight? I'm just in an anxious mood now.
- Hey, honey. I know you're working right now, but would you mind if I walked around naked tonight. I can keep panties and bra on if you want. It's just really hot today.

What makes these texts work so well is that, again like I mentioned before, you send them while he is at work and has no choice but to imagine you sexually and can't do anything about it.

Plus, you tease him to offer to stop sexting him and put him in the sexually tense position of asking for more.

Summary- How to Take Action

There you have it.

Depending on your relationship stage you have a list of texts that you could copy word-for-word and send him.

Or you have templates in which you could fill in the blanks and personalize to your situation.

Again, please make sure that you read the introductory sections of each category of text message before sending them off to your man of interest.

Even us men can be turned off if you move too fast.

We like foreplay and warming things up just as much as you do.
